

We are Volunteers of America.
And we are the first to step forward,
taking on the most
crushing problems.
The dire.
The hopeless.
The untouchable.

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA | UTAH
REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY |
2013

And we make a difference.
Because we not only
perceive the burdens of others,
we know first hand what it means
to make them lighter.
This is why we do what we do.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

When I reflect upon this past fiscal year, two words come to mind: resilience and perseverance.

We had more than our share of challenges last year. In September 2012, a fire destroyed our Young Men's Transitional Home, forcing us to regroup and rebuild. We were dealt another tragic blow when one of our staff members passed away, bringing the death we deal with so often in our line of work much closer to home. And like so many other nonprofits, we suffered cuts in federal funding, meaning we had to find ways to do more with less, and not compromise the quality of services we offer.

To persevere and succeed throughout all of this, I continually found myself going back to my personal mantra: Patience, Persistence and Positivity. I believe it is paying off. Good things are happening here at Volunteers of America, Utah.

In 2012-2013, we served 10,307 clients across all areas of our agency. We were able to help more clients with our mental health services. We are experiencing longer stays in both our Adult Detox Center and Center for Women and Children. This is great news, because every day we extend their stay increases their chances for sobriety and success. And our Young Men's Transitional Home is nearing completion, enabling us to house 14 young men when we open in Spring 2014.

Looking forward, we'll see a continued emphasis on diversifying our funding sources. As government funds continue to be in shorter supply, it's imperative we look to our community for private funding. I am so grateful for the generous support we already receive from our community. We could not do what we do without the care and compassion many of you continue to show. So we will push forward, persevere and stay resilient. And we will succeed. Our work is too important not to.

Sincerely,

HELPING YOUTH FIND THEIR WAY TO A BETTER LIFE

These are our most vulnerable. The youth, age 15-24, who live on our streets. Who camp in our foothills. Who have nowhere else to go.

So we go to them. We bring them food and clothing. Check on their safety. And gain their trust, so eventually, they come to us.

At first, it might just be to shower, do laundry, or get some food at our Homeless Youth Resource Center. But once we build a relationship, we can do more than meet their basic needs. We can help them complete their education. Seek employment. Find housing. And get the mental health and addiction counseling they need. This year, we implemented programming changes that enable us to spend more quality, one-on-one time to help them on the path to self-sufficiency. As a result, 66% of youth who completed their participation in case management transitioned into housing.

PROVIDING OUTREACH, ENCOURAGEMENT, AND CARE FOR THOSE EXPERIENCING HOMELESSNESS AND ADDICTION

We work with the discarded. The downtrodden. The addicted. Volunteers of America, Utah offers acceptance, safety, encouragement and sobriety options for men and women who suffer from addiction and homelessness, but have nowhere else to turn.

This year, we continued offering social intervention at our Adult Detox Center and Center for Women and Children, which has extended the average stay by 3 days. The longer we can get them to stay, the greater their chances of success. We're pleased to report, our detoxification centers were able to reduce costs for the community by caring for more than 750 people who, without our help, would have ended up in expensive hospital care or detention facilities.

TREATMENT PROGRAMS AND COUNSELING FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM ADDICTION OR MENTAL ILLNESS

Every day, we see the broken. The outcast. The hopeless. These are the members of our society, young and old, who suffer from addiction and mental illness but have no support system. So VOA steps in, with programs for youth and adults at our Cornerstone Counseling Center.

All counseling clients work with professionally licensed staff to learn mindfulness that improves daily living activities and social skills, increases their confidence when making choices and decisions, and helps them handle distress and crisis.

This year, we increased our ability to work with more clients suffering from mental illness and domestic violence issues.

Each day, Cornerstone Outpatient Services provides professional therapy to approximately 100-140 people, giving them tools to improve their lives.
