A Family Foundation

You don't need to choose between caring for yourself or being with your children.

Beating addiction is hard enough, and with a baby on the way it might feel impossible. But at Freedom House you're not alone, the personalized care you, your unborn baby, and your children receive comes from an experienced staff, that's been where you are.

Everyone deserves a new chance on life, and a life free from addiction. This program is not a band-aid. It is a comprehensive approach to treating addiction, providing connections, resources and education. A compassionate team of therapists and peer support specialists help you build long-lasting foundations for a life filled with health and joy for both you and your unborn baby.

Recovery isn't easy, and it's a long road ahead, but we will be with you and your family every step of the way.

Proven Approach

Comprehensive and accredited residential and intensive outpatient care for pregnant and parenting moms.

100%
of infants increased in birth weight at follow-up appointments

88%
increase in visitation or reunion with children

275
healthy babies born through Freedom House's history

98%
indicated they benefited from the services

Stay Together

Personalized residential treatment and support for expecting mothers with substance use disorder and women with young children.

- Children stay with you, regardless of age
- Therapy to begin healing from trauma
- Medication-assisted treatment available
- Coordination of visitation with children outside of custody
- Employment and goal setting support
- CPS qualified parenting classes available
- Guidance to develop a birth plan
- Support to create a reunification plan
- Coordination of child care
- Classes for life skills, nutrition, and vocational training
- Family education on dynamics of addiction and more

Recovery doesn't stop after your stay, which is why you'll be eligible for transitional housing, providing a safe, stable place to live for up to two years with your children. You will receive individual and group continued support, and child care options allowing you to work or attend school.
